APPLICATION OVERVIEW

SECTION ONE - APPLICATION COVER PAGE

The page below serves as the cover sheet for the grant proposal. Please complete the form in its entirety.

SECTION TWO - COMMUNITY DESCRIPTION

Define the community you propose to serve. A blank table is provided in the packet.

SECTION THREE - ACTION PLAN

Applicants need to develop and be prepared to implement a comprehensive 12-Month Action Plan. A blank template table is provided in the packet. The first column of the template contains specific details & examples of what to include.

The Action Plan should foster community-level change by including a combination of interventions, strategies, and objectives. Be sure to include the following in your plan:

1. Statement of the problem. Describe the current youth substance use problem(s) in your community you plan to address.
  - Include local data from the Student Health and Risk Prevention \(SHARP\) survey to justify your proposal. This link provides Utah data. To get local data, reach out to your local school district.
  - Identify 1-3 problems or related behaviors found in SHARP data
2. Describe the risk and/or protective factors you plan to address that contribute to and/or address this problem. For more background information on risk and protective factors, see Appendix A.
  - Include local data from the Student Health and Risk Prevention \(SHARP\) survey on the risk/protective factors you plan to address.
3. Selected Interventions
  - Interventions are programs, policies, and/or strategies that promote health and well-being.
  - Utah Code § 26A-1-129 states that funding shall be provided for “a program or purpose that is: (i) evidence-based; or (ii) a promising practice as defined by the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.” Describe and substantiate how your program or purpose is rooted in evidence or a promising practice for substance use prevention. See Appendix B for resources on identifying an evidence-based program or promising practice.
  - Applications that include interventions that are evidence-based/a promising practice will score higher.
4. Strategies for Community-Level Change
  - Your action plan should directly correlate with one or more of the Seven Strategies for Community-Level Change from the Community-based Advocacy-focused Data-driven Coalition-building Association (CADCA). Identify which of these strategies (listed below) align with each activity listed. For more information on these strategies, see Appendix C.
    - Disseminate information/education
    - Enhance individual life skills
    - Provide activities that reduce risk factors or enhance protective factors
    - Enhance community/participant access or reducing barriers to programs and strategies
    - Changing consequences by addressing incentives or disincentives
    - Implement environmental strategies to reduce risk factors and increase protective factors
    - Support modification to policies or the implementation of new policies
5. Evaluation Methods
  - How will you measure the progress of your intervention? How will the community/program participants be affected by the intervention? How does their participation in this activity address the identified risk and protective factors?
6. Process, Short & Long-Term Objectives

- Create SMART objectives (Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Realistic, Time-bound) to describe the expected outcome of the activity; See Appendix D for assistance.

SECTION FOUR - BUDGET

Please complete the budget template provided. Include what the funding will be used for, the justification and the amount allocated to each expense. The budget justification column is used to determine the reasonableness and allowability of costs. All of the proposed costs listed must be reasonable, and necessary to accomplish project objectives, allowable in accordance with applicable Federal Cost Principles, auditable, and incurred during the project period. If a cost is related to a specific intervention include those details in the justification.

PLEASE NOTE: Proposals will be reviewed & scored by a committee based on the above requirements. Reference Appendix E for the scoring criteria and scoring sheet.

APPENDIX A - Risk and Protective Factors Overview

The following excerpt is borrowed from the Community-based Advocacy-focused Data-driven Coalition-building Association (CADCA):

Extensive national research, spanning over fifty years, has demonstrated a strong association between specific social conditions, personal characteristics, experiences, and the involvement in unhealthy behavior. This research has identified these influences as Risk and Protective Factors.

Risk factors are characteristics within the individual or conditions in the family, school, or community that increase the likelihood someone will engage in unhealthy behavior such as the use of alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs, violence, suicide, or early sexual activity. The more risk factors present in a child's life, the greater the likelihood that problems will develop in adolescence.

Protective factors are characteristics within the individual or conditions in the family, school, or community that help someone cope successfully with life challenges. When people can successfully negotiate their problems and deal with pre-existing risk factors, they are less likely to engage in unhealthy behavior. Protective factors are instrumental in healthy development; they build resiliency, skills, and connections (CADCA, 2011).

APPENDIX B - Resources for Evidence-Based Programs and Promising Practices

Evidence-based means that a program, policy, or other strategy has been rigorously tested and demonstrated to be effective in preventing health problems based upon the best-available research evidence, rather than upon personal belief or anecdotal evidence (Health Policy Institute of Ohio, 2013). Programs that have been shown to be effective through less rigorous evaluation methods are often referred to as “promising practice.” Strong proposals will cite the research that demonstrates why the program or practice is evidence-based or promising.

If you are unsure of where to start in identifying an evidence-based program or promising practice, here are some top resources to help narrow your search. Community fit and practicality of the program are important factors to consider.

- Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)
Implement an Evidence-Based Program - Includes a link to Utah’s own registry of approved prevention programs
Resource Guide (PDF): Reducing Vaping Among Youth and Young Adults
Resource Guide (PDF): Substance Misuse Prevention for Young Adults
- Blueprints for Healthy Youth Development: www.blueprintsprograms.org/
Identifies youth violence, delinquency, and drug prevention and intervention programs that meet a strict scientific standard of program effectiveness. This database allows you to search by risk and protective factors, outcomes, and target audience.
- The Community Guide
Collection of evidence-based findings of the Community Preventive Services Task Force (CPSTF). This database allows you to search by topic, audience, or strategy. Here are a couple recommended topic searches:
Tobacco      Adolescent Health
- What Works Clearinghouse
This database has an education focus and may be most useful for applicants looking for proven prevention tools in school settings.
- Results First Clearinghouse Database
This social policy program database compiles key information from nine national clearinghouses, including the effectiveness rating they assigned to each program.
- Find Interventions that Work (CDC)
Evidence-based interventions that can work in the four action areas: socioeconomic factors, physical environment, health behaviors, and clinical care.
- Healthy People 2030 Evidence-Based Resource Tool
Explore relevant resources by topic that can help you work to achieve Healthy People 2030 objectives.
- Healthy Salt Lake/Salt Lake County Health Department Promising Practices Database
This database informs professionals and community members about documented approaches to improving community health and quality of life. The ultimate goal is to support the systematic adoption, implementation, and evaluation of successful programs, practices, and policy changes. The database provides carefully reviewed, documented, and ranked practices that range from good ideas to evidence-based practices.
- What Works For Health (County Health Rankings & Roadmaps)
A tool to help you find policies and programs that are a good fit for your community's priorities.
- Model Practices (NACCHO)
Model Practices are awarded to local health departments across the country for implementing programs that demonstrate exemplary and replicable outcomes in response to an identified public health need.

APPENDIX C - Seven Strategies for Community-Level Change (CADCA's National Coalition Institute, 2021)

CADCA's Seven Strategies for Creating Effective Community Change provides a menu of action steps to include in your comprehensive action plan. Note that the first three strategies focus primarily on individuals while the latter four focus on systems and policies.

1. Providing Information – Educational presentations, workshops or seminars, or other presentations of data (e.g., public announcements, brochures, dissemination, billboards, community meetings, forums, web-based communication).
2. Enhancing Skills – Workshops, seminars, or other activities designed to increase the skills of participants, members, and staff needed to achieve population-level outcomes (e.g., training, technical assistance, distance learning, strategic planning retreats, curricula development)
3. Providing Support – Creating opportunities to support people to participate in activities that reduce risk or enhance protection (e.g., providing alternative activities, mentoring, referrals, support groups or clubs).
4. Enhancing Access/Reducing Barriers- Improving systems and processes to increase the ease, ability and opportunity to utilize those systems and services (e.g., assuring healthcare, childcare, transportation, housing, justice, education, safety, special needs, cultural and language sensitivity).
5. Changing Consequences (Incentives/Disincentives) – Increasing or decreasing the probability of a specific behavior that reduces risk or enhances protection by altering the consequences for performing that behavior (e.g., increasing public recognition for deserved behavior, individual and business rewards, taxes, citations, fines, revocations/loss of privileges).
6. Physical Design – Changing the physical design or structure of the environment to reduce risk or enhance protection (e.g., parks, landscapes, signage, lighting, outlet density).
7. Modifying/Changing Policies – Formal change in written procedures, by-laws, proclamations, rules, or laws with written documentation and/or voting procedures (e.g., workplace initiatives, law enforcement procedures, and practices, public policy actions, systems change within government, communities, and organizations).

APPENDIX D – Developing Measurable Objectives

To be able to effectively evaluate your project, it is critical that you develop measurable objectives. This appendix provides information on developing objectives and provides examples.

Objectives describe the results to be achieved and the manner in which they will be achieved. Multiple objectives are generally needed to address a single goal. Well-written objectives help set program priorities and targets for progress and accountability. It is recommended you avoid verbs that may have vague meanings to describe the intended outcomes, like “understand” or “know” because it may prove difficult to measure them. Instead, use verbs that document action, such as: “By the end of 2018, 75% of program participants will be placed in permanent housing.” In order to be effective, objectives should be clear and leave no room for interpretation. SMART is a helpful acronym for developing objectives that are specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and time-bound.

S: Specific – Includes the “who” and “what” of program activities. Use only one action verb to avoid issues with measuring success. For example, “Outreach workers will administer the HIV risk assessment tool to at least 100 injection drug users in the population of focus” is a more specific objective than “Outreach workers will use their skills to reach out to drug users on the street.”

M: Measurable – Outlines how much change is expected. It must be possible to count or otherwise quantify an activity or its results. It also means the source of and mechanism for collecting measurement data can be identified and that collection of the data is feasible for your program. A baseline measurement is required to document change (e.g., to measure the percentage of increase or decrease). If you plan to use a specific measurement instrument, it is recommended you incorporate its use into the objective. Example: By 9/18/26 increase by 10 percent the number of 8th, 9th, and 10th-grade students who disapprove of marijuana use as measured by the annual school youth survey.

A: Achievable – Objectives should be attainable within a given time frame and with available program resources. For example, “The new part-time nutritionist will meet with seven teenage mothers each week to design a complete dietary plan” is a more achievable objective than “Teenage mothers will learn about proper nutrition.”

R: Realistic – Objectives should be within the scope of the project and propose reasonable programmatic steps that can be implemented within a specific time frame. For example, “Two ex-gang members will make one school presentation each week for two months to raise community awareness about the presence of gangs” is a more realistic objective than “Gang-related violence in the community will be eliminated.”

T: Time-bound – Provide a time frame indicating when the objective will be measured or the time by when the objective will be met. For example, “Five new peer educators will be recruited by the second quarter of the first funding year” is a better objective than “New peer educators will be hired.”
